

RAIN PREVENTED BLOODHOUND TRAILING AN INTRUDER

Germanstown Home Entered By Stranger Thursday Night—Manchester Bloodhounds Called But Unable To Trail Culprit.

Early Thursday night someone entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lane, living on the Bracken county side of the village of Germanstown. Mrs. Lane, who was in bed, at first thought that it was her husband but she soon discovered that the intruder was not her husband but another man, who she could not recognize in the dark.

The intruder ransacked about the kitchen and dining room of the home and then left. He entered the house by the front door, opening the screen and entering through the open door.

After the intruder had left the premises, Mrs. Lane summoned her neighbors and a strict search of the home was made but nothing was found missing. The Manchester bloodhounds were called and were on the job in a very short time but rain had been falling and the dogs were unable to follow the trail. They took one trail to a house in the lower end of Germanstown but this was probably a later trail than that of the intruder.

Officers at Germanstown are said to have a clew to the culprit.

POGUE HEARING CONTINUED TO NEXT WEEK

On Request of the Government, Hearing Against Local Distillery Company Is Continued Until Friday.

Attorney A. D. Cole, representing the H. E. Pogue Distillery Company in the case against that company before Federal Prohibition Inspector Elijah Hogge, of Morehead, received a telegram Thursday evening from the Inspector stating that the government would not be ready for the hearing Friday and that a continuance had been asked.

The government had suggested that the hearing be held in Lexington on some day next week and permitted Mr. Cole to select the day which would best suit him. Friday Mr. Cole selected next Friday as the date for the hearing and telegraphed Judge Hogge to that effect.

Considerable interest was attached to this hearing and out-of-town newspapers had representatives here to "cover" the case.

CHAUTAUQUA IS CLOSED WITH BIG PROGRAMS TODAY

Congressman Upshaw, of Georgia, and Italian Musicians will Furnish the Last Programs On the 1921 Chautauqua.

The American Legion's 1921 chautauqua will come to a close with tonight's big program. While the chautauqua may not prove to be a financial success in such great proportions as the Legion members had hoped, it has certainly been a success so far as the season ticket holders are concerned.

The program compares favorably with any Chautauqua program that has ever been offered Maysville and the price was much lower than all former chautauquas. Many are of the opinion that taken as a whole the musical program of the '21 chautauqua was much better than any that has ever been previously held here.

Thursday's program consisted of entertainment by the Dietrichs, magicians and musicians, which was very enjoyable and a lecture by a native Indian on the customs and the progress of agriculture in India.

Friday's program—the last of the week—will be a musical program by a company of native Italian musicians known as the Venetian Troubadours and a lecture by Hon. Will D. Upshaw, Congressman from Atlanta, one of the greatest men of the South, when his handicap is considered. Mr. Upshaw is quite an orator and a very influential member of the lower house of Congress.

Maysville will certainly have another chautauqua in 1922, it is now learned. There will be only 1200 season tickets sold in advance at the low price of two dollars each and already many of these tickets have been contracted for by the chautauqua boosters.

CHILD EATS CRACKER; DIES; THOUGHT POISONED

Son of Lewis County Merchant Dies Suddenly After Eating Cracker—Looks Like Poison.

The Lewis County Leader says: The entire countryside was shocked Monday evening, when little Warren Stricklett, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Stricklett, of Maysville, died suddenly. Known merchant of Stricklett, Ky., came within the sweep of the grim Reaper's scythe.

The child was sitting in the store, eating a cracker, when he suddenly fell to the floor, violently ill, and died before medical aid could reach him. Coroner H. M. Bertram said the case looked like poisoning, but Mr. Stricklett said there was nothing like poison about the store, and certainly the crackers, that everyone used of, were not poison.

Funeral services were held at the M. E. church at Crum, Thursday morning, and interment at the McElowney cemetery.

SIX WOMEN ON JURY INDICTING REV. CHARLES HARMON

First Time In History Women Serve On Brown County Grand Jury—Harmon Threatens Hunger Strike.

Georgetown, Ohio, August 12.—An indictment charging shooting with intent to kill was returned by a special grand jury in the Common Pleas court of Brown county here when a bill was presented them, naming Rev. Charles Harmon defendant.

For the first time in the history of Brown county courts women were summoned for jury duty, those qualifying being Mrs. Jude Jennings, Mrs. Sallie Myers, Mrs. Minnie Griswold, Mrs. Olive Rotoff, Mrs. Edna Grimes and Miss Alice Abbott.

The first step in this action brought many witnesses from the Ellsberry neighborhood, many of whom were eye witnesses to the shooting. Mrs. Harmon, whom the defendant is charged with having shot three times, was among them. Her recovery has been rapid and only slight indications were observable of the wounds she received. Especially was this the case in the wound which left a bullet within her month.

During the hearing the husband sent word that he wanted to have a talk with her, but she refused this request. After waiting several hours for her to appear, Harmon announced to Sheriff Neu that he was satisfied that she was through with him, and that he proposed to bring an end to it all by refusal to eat. But he changed his mind and is eating his "three-a-day" regularly. An X-ray photo was taken of his wounds by Dr. R. B. Hannah last week, which shows there is nothing serious and that he will completely recover.

AUTO DRIVER IS FATALLY BURNED 'NEATH MACHINE

Burns Sustained Under Stabhorn Auto At Bentonville Causes Boy's Death.

When a wrench he was using slipped making a spark which ignited gasoline upon the clothing of Harvey McClelland, aged 22, he was so badly burned Thursday that death resulted. At the time young McClelland was beneath his automobile upon the pike, about two miles from Bentonville.

Something had gone wrong with the machine. His father, Martin McClelland, and a man from near Lawshe was with him. All were engaged in making the repair. When McClelland found that his clothing was ablaze he crawled quickly from beneath the machine. His companions attempted to extinguish the flames by tearing off his clothing. He broke from them and ran a short distance, which fanned the flames. When the flames were extinguished his chest and left side were seriously burned. He was taken to his home near Peeble, where he died within a short time.

TWO ARE INJURED IN EMINENCE FIRE

Fire Destroys Garage and Causes Loss of $30,000 in Kentucky Town Thursday.

Eminence, Ky., August 12.—Two persons were injured and property loss of $30,000 was sustained in a fire which destroyed the garage and automobile agency of E. L. Ricketts and damaged the undertaking establishment of McCarty & Ricketts here early Thursday.

A strong wind fanned the flames and interfered with the fire fighters. The entire population of the city, more than one thousand persons, offered to help fight it.

Those injured were Richard Ratcliff, son-in-law of Mr. Ricketts, who cut an artery and a tendon in his right wrist when he broke through the front door of the garage to save the books of the firm which, with the safe and two tractors were saved, and J. Stivers, who was badly burned about the hands when his clothing caught fire.

The brick building occupied by the garage fell after the fire had been raging several hours. Eight small automobiles and a tractor were destroyed. The loss was $30,000 with practically no insurance.

The Anderson's Harmony Hounds, local colored dance orchestra, played for a society dance at Georgetown, Ohio, Thursday evening.

UNEMPLOYED OF CITY TO BE GIVEN WORK ON SEWERS

Seventy-five to One Hundred Men To Be Put To Work at Building Sewers Monday Morning—City Will do the Work Itself.

Rejecting all bids of contractors for the laying of four city sewers as excessive, the city, through its Internal Improvement Committee, will lay the sewers itself and will begin on the Fourth street sewer at 7 o'clock Monday morning.

Mayor T. M. Russell stated Friday morning that a very large force of men will be put to work and continued from one sewer to the other until they are all completed. He announces that he will begin the employment of men Monday morning at 7 o'clock on Fourth street west of Market where work will begin. He expects to employ between seventy-five and one hundred men and will pay thirty cents an hour. The length of the day has not been decided upon and will be determined by the employees themselves when work is begun Monday.

The four sewers to be laid are (1) West Fourth street from Market west to the bridge on the Lexington pike. The average depth of this sewer will be four feet. (2) William street from the ball park west to Houston avenue and south on Houston avenue to the railroad connecting with the east end trunk sewer. The average depth will be 6 feet. (3) Hall alley from Commerce street west to Sherwood alley. The average depth will be 7 feet. (4) Main street from the C. & O. railroad south to Forest avenue. The depth will average four feet.

Mayor Russell Friday stated that he believed this public work would give employment to practically all the unemployed in the city of Maysville and as the job will last for considerable time it is very fortunate for the unemployed.

All who desire to work on these jobs should apply to the Mayor and Chairman Chas. B. Davis on Fourth street at 7 o'clock next Monday morning.

LET LLOYD-GEORGE COME.

Lord Northcliffe was denied entertainment at the British Embassy when he visited Washington, for the reason that he is not in good standing with the present London Government. His fall from official grace is due to an editorial published in the London Times, which he controls, to the effect that neither Lloyd George nor Lord Curzon were fit persons to represent Great Britain at the forthcoming Washington conference on limitation of armaments. "Of all statesmen in England," said the editorial, "he (Lloyd George) probably is most distrusted. In America he is widely regarded as a man who encompassed President Wilson with his wizardry."

Just why the eminent British editor should attack the premier because he had outwitted the American President is not apparent. Certain it is that nobody in this country thinks any the less of Mr. Lloyd George for what he did at the peace conference. He was working in the interests of England, first, last, and all the time, and every fair-minded American admires him for accomplishing what he did for his country. Of course he "encompassed President Wilson with his wizardry," but the American complaint is directed against the former President that he permitted himself to be hoodwinked. Obsessed with his league of nations, to the exclusion of other matters directly affecting his own country's welfare, he allowed the treaty to be written pretty much as Mr. Lloyd George wanted it.

The fact that the British premier pulled the wool over Mr. Wilson's eyes does not disqualify him in the least from representing Great Britain at the Washington conference. For it must be remembered that Mr. Wilson is no longer a factor in our public life. Neither he nor anybody selected by him will have charge of any American interests at the conference. The probabilities are that Mr. Hughes will head the representatives of the United States around the conference table. Great Britain may send her premier or any other eminent citizen to present the British view. They may practice what wizardry they please, the American people are serene in the conviction that American interests will be brilliantly championed. No spirit of "supreme sacrifice" will govern the actions of Mr. Hughes. He is animated by the doctrine of "America first," and when that has been the inspiration of American diplomacy in the past there has been no cause for regret at the outcome.

THE PASSING OF A GREAT SINGER.

Hardly a home in Kansas City but knew the matchless voice that recently, the cable announced, was stilled forever. Hardly a farmstead in all this land but was familiar with the singing of Enrico Caruso. Because of the opportunities, peculiar for this age, for hearing, through records, all existing music, the whole world may be said to share with the tenor's own city of Naples a deep personal grief.

There is something irresistibly pathetic in the passing of a great singer. No other death arouses such impotent rebellion as the thought of the death of song. Such a feeling, familiar to every human who has responded ever so slightly to the appeal of music, carries with it something mystifying. It is the death of a singer the death of his song?

Looking back on the great singers who have been dust for more than a generation, so that no one now living recalls having heard them, it would seem that they have found an earthly immortality that is peculiarly deathless. Even those dead for a half century of time—the Malibran, the Tamagnos—are treasured and revered. Jenny Lind occupies such a sacred niche in the popular imagination that many felt almost as if the singers who "impersonated" her last fall on the centenary of her birth committed nothing short of sacrilege. That anyone should presume to sing like Jenny Lind was unthinkable. Was she not a household word years before these young singers were born?

Even now the world is busy making the Caruso tradition. For every tone of his that sweetened and enriched a life, a stone will be built into the monument of his memory—a monument the greater because he had just touched the pinnacle of his fame when death came. He had reached the height of his artistic fruition. He had passed to Maeterlinck's "Memoryland," and numberless "records" of his singing still exist to prove the greatest of his art.—Kansas City Star.

NOT ALL SETTLED

Japan objects to opening any "settled" issues. But there may be a difference of opinion as to just what is "settled." No question is settled until it is settled right.

Another woman in one of those "eternal triangle" cases has killed the man in the case and has entered a plea of insanity at her preliminary hearing.

Many amusing things develop from every election but it seems that nothing can furnish more real amusement than a Democratic primary.

Defeated primary candidates are now thinking about the number of liars there are in Mason county.

The usual number of "I told you so" boys were very much in evidence after the primary.

GREAT WORK OF U. S. REMOUNT STATION

Accomplishing Much to Build
Unexcelled Line of Cavalry
Horses Invaluable to Army.

The World War was the great caldron in which birth was given to many organizations looking to the leadership of America in every path of economic activity; and no such activity bearing on the future of one of our most vital essentials compares with that of the American Remount Association, an organization composed of some of the country's leading men. It came into being as a result of the dire necessity of more and better blooded horses for the United States Army. Thus, with kindred organizations, it is promoting one of the most important undertakings of the most important organization of the country.

The object of the Remount Association is the improvement of general purpose horse conditions in every State in the Union; and because of the importance of the work entailed, Col. F. S. Armstrong, of the United States Army, has been placed in charge, with headquarters in Washington, D. C., where his department is in close touch with every other governmental agency. The Remount Association, with the co-operation of others similarly engaged, has, during the last eighteen months of its existence, succeeded in getting one hundred and sixty-four stallions—eighty-five of which were donated by patriotic organizations and individuals—for distribution throughout the country, to be utilized by farmers desirous of raising the standard of their horses. In laying out the work, it was decided to profit by the experience of foreign governments and locate thoroughbred sires in every grazing community of the country. The whole was divided into zones, and a plan of breeding to the interest of the farmers of America, inaugurated as a demonstration of the association's headquarters in Washington show that there has been an average of fifty-five mares for each stallion, although the breeding season is not yet concluded. Also, at a meeting of the Association, it was shown that there was a demand for some seven hundred horses last Spring, and that, for the coming Spring, this demand will be doubled or even trebled.

Both the race courses and the thoroughbred nurseries constantly being drawn upon for horses of proven courage in the acid test of racing. It remains for them to produce the only type that measures up to the standard destined to supply the United States cavalry remounts worthy of the men in the service.

It may be added that, owing to the broad plan of fostering the industry of horse breeding as practiced for generations by the British, French and Italian Governments, these countries were in the enviable position of ability to supply their armies with good mounts, whereas, America, which has never introduced such a system was obliged to draw upon the resources of the allied nations to horse her men.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington. — An illustration of the manner in which public funds are used in needless printing is presented in the recently distributed pamphlet of the Department of Labor on "Illegitimacy as a child-welfare problem." This pamphlet compiled by the Wilson administration fills 408 pages. In the first 72 pages there is a very elaborate review of the whole pamphlet showing that a study was made of records of illegitimacy in Massachusetts, with facts and conclusions deduced therefrom. The summary shows that a child in 44 in Massachusetts is born out of wedlock, that about half of the mothers of children born out of wedlock were otherwise of good character, that a large proportion of them were earning their living, that 56 per cent. of the children so born had care by others than the parents, that illegitimate birth is a disadvantage and embarrassment to the child, that a large proportion of fathers of illegitimate children do not contribute to their support, and that it is necessary for the state to make provision for the support of illegitimate children where the parent fall in this regard. As remedies for illegitimacy it is suggested that improved industrial conditions, education, recreation, supervision of commercialized amusements, and provision for the care of the feeble-minded and defective, would be effective. These facts and conclusions, which are here set forth in less than fifty lines, are fully detailed in the 72 pages of the summary of the pamphlet and would have been adequate for all practical purposes without the remainder of the 408 pages. Most of the facts set forth and remedies suggested are already known in a general way by all social workers and it is doubtful that publication of detailed statistics will aid materially in solving the social problem which is made the subject of the study. In any event, the pamphlet is nearly six times as large as required in order to give all the essential information.

Looking Out For America First.

Republican Senators and Representatives are determined that property in the hands of the Alien Property Custodian shall not be returned to its former owners until after financial readjustments with Germany have been completed. It has been rumored that a drive is soon to start in New York against the acts of the former custodians in an effort to obtain the return of property that they took over.

Senator Philander C. Knox of Pennsylvania is of the opinion that the peace resolution amply protects American rights in that regard. "The purpose of the resolution," said Senator Knox, "is simply to hold in statu quo the things that have been done by the Alien Property Custodian. The whole theory of the joint resolution is that we are going to retain such property as is held only until suitable provision has been made for the satisfaction of American claims against Germany."

Nearly Half a Billion For Vets. Congressman Burton E. Sweet of Iowa, author of the Veterans' Bureau bill, estimates that the measure will cost the Government $480,000,000 a year to administer. The cost last year of the soldier relief bureau that the bill consolidates was about $460,000,000. Those who think that the Government is falling in its duty to World War veterans should consider these figures.

New York Letter

by
Lucy Jeanne Price

New York. — You learn a lot of things going through a war! But evidently, in spite of all these stories about romances in France, you learn nothing at all about courtship. Bob Widoseck made a fine record as a soldier. But as a fiancé—well, he couldn't hold the job; lost it at the very last minute through crass errors. Mazie Ball had been impressed originally with the war record, of which she had glowing accounts from her brother, a comrade in arms of the unfortunate Bob, who visited the Ball's when the war was done with and met Mazie. And now she was coming on from Ohio to married to him. She didn't arrive on time, and the perils of the trenches faded into insignificance in Bob's mind compared to the perils of travel from Ohio to New York. He got so alarmed that he sent out a description of her. That was the fatal moment. For he described her as having brown eyes and weighing 143 pounds. Mazie saw the description at the home of her uncle where she had stopped off to visit. And she never finished the journey; she wrote a letter instead. It was bad enough to have her blue eyes called brown by her own fiancé; but 143 pounds! In these days! Oh-h-h! "Gee" mourned Bob. "I knew that she had weighed 123 and she wrote me she was getting stout. I just figured 143 would be about right. Gee!"

Peggy O'Neil is the latest Broadway actress to make something of a social hit in London. The young Viscount Glerawly is reported to be quite gone on her and to be paying her much attention. It is even rumored that his mother, the Countess Annesley would welcome her into the family. The two are seen everywhere together and maybe Peggy will never come back to us nor to the stage, at all.

Six women sailed from New York the other day to spend two years in the still turbulent Balkans, teaching the girls of that region to play and to work with equal readiness and capability. They made up one delegation of the Y. W. C. A.'s autumn contribution to foreign service. Twenty more will leave here between now and October, for the same kind of work in the Orient. Japan China and India are to be their posts. In nearly all of these Eastern and Near Eastern cities where the Y. W. C. secretaries are going, the work is already organized and being carried on with definite success. In one or two cities of the Near East, it is just being established. One of these is Riga, which used to be in Russia and now is in Latvia, one of the war-born nations, and where the workers must speak Russian, German, Estonian, and Latvian! It's a very complicated task this optimistic group is undertaking in Riga. And American girls are going to teach the girls of these cities and nations with their different traditions and backgrounds to play and to train themselves for business and professions. Summer camps and stenographic courses will fit in just as they do here at home. Those who left last week for the Balkans were from New Jersey, Pennsylvania, California and Oklahoma. A map showing the various starting points and landing places of these young women certainly makes one realize the scope of their organization.

The new rent laws have stumped a good many New York landlords who wanted to get rid of their tenants in order to have the buildings improved for those who would pay more. But Mrs. Cohen, who owns an apartment building on Nostrand avenue, was not to be bested by words written by any legislature. Having tried various mild ways and having appealed in vain to the courts, she just took away the stairs. She got a quick-working carpenter to remove the flight leading from the first to the second floor; and it is NOT an elevator building. For five and a half hours the "ins" couldn't get out, nor the "outs" in. Then the building department of the city listened to telephoned wails and weeps and invaded the premises with a whole new flight of steps.

bought Cedar Cliff, the handsome Broadway estate of the late John D. Archbold, near Tarrytown, for the housing of French war orphans. The millionaire colony of that Hudson River suburb has been regularly enthusiastic over those same orphans—while they were safely in France. The teas and bazaars and other money-raising projects were all patronized by them as by everyone else. But now they've risen to a man—and woman—and entered vigorous protests with the Town Board against the settlement of these 150 orphans in their midst.

CENTRAL STATE SIGNING PLEDGES VERY READILY

Mr. S. F. Reed Returns Form Trip and Reports Farmers Joining Co-Operative Plan Rapidly.

Reports from the Central Organization Committee of the Burley Tobacco Growers Co-Operative Association indicate a rapid signing up of the contractors. Mr. Stanley F. Reed, the Mason county chairman, has just returned from a short trip through the central counties. He reports that the Central Organization is rapidly pushing the preliminary work and that splendid results are being gained in the pivotal counties. Bourbon county is enthusiastically in favor of this movement. Several precincts in that county have signed more than the required 75 per cent, and in one precinct there is only one grower who has not signed the contract. In two other precincts over 90 per cent of the tobacco is signed up. On Friday of last week a one day's solicitation in five Fayette precincts signed up 800,000 pounds of tobacco. At that time more than two million pounds had already been signed for Fayette and that total has been daily increased since that date. Scott county reports rapid progress and the movement is extending to Clark and Montgomery. Twenty-nine counties have their county organizations and 15 of them fairly complete county organizations. The Sharpshooter precinct of Bath county reports more than 90 per cent of the growers signed up. In Fleming the work has not been pushed but it is planning for a mass meeting on Saturday of this week and then the work will go actively forward.

Mr. Reed states that the consensus of those parties informed as to Central Kentucky is that within a week or ten days the important counties for that district will have their quotas.

The interest being taken in the work and the enthusiasm shown by the growers gives every indication that the organization will be successful in securing the 75 per cent of production necessary to make this movement a success.

The Mason county committee has splendid chairmen for the various precincts. These chairmen have entire charge of their respective territories and are handling them as seems best to give due publicity to and secure the result aimed at, a complete signing up of Mason county to the last grower. The committee request that any one interested in this movement see their own chairman, volunteer to do the necessary soliciting work and help him to cover his whole precinct in as short time as possible.

The committee requests those renting land for next year to bear in mind that the landlords contract covers all tobacco grown upon his land, and urges that all rental agreements be made to effect this end. Mason county has stood behind every co-operative movement and has never failed to lead the way in the plans to secure better prices and more stable market for this great cash crop—tobacco. For the first time such a movement has been adequately financed, strongly lead and enthusiastically believed in by the whole burley district.

FARMER'S GIFT TO EUROPEANS HAS BEEN RECEIVED

Corn Donated To Austrian and Polish Children By American Farmers Has Been Received.

New York. — Word has been received at the headquarters here of the American Relief Administration that the gift by American farmers to hungry Austrian children—196,000 bushels of corn—has reached Vienna in the form of grits, meal, flour and other milled products. The donation represented a cash value of $120,000 on the part of the farmers.

In addition, the railroads gave free transportation to seaboard, and the four brotherhoods of railroad employees furnished crews who ran the trains without pay. The action of the brotherhoods was voluntary, while the railroad companies willing compliance with the request of Herbert Hoover, chairman of the American Relief Administration, that they cooperate. The Chicago Board of Trade waived its charge of $5.60 a car, the grain elevators cut their charges from 1 1/2 to 1/4 of a cent per bushel and the millers reduced theirs five cents a bushel.

At the same time the farmers contributed 185,000 bushels of corn, worth $124,000, for Polish Relief and this has recently arrived in Warsaw, according to reports to the American Relief Administration.

Dr. Clemens Pirquet, world famous health expert who has been co-operating with the American Relief Administration in Austria, wrote as follows from Vienna in acknowledging the gift:

"For two years our population has been enjoying the generous help of the Americans, thousands of children being actually saved from starvation because a good and nourishing meal was prepared for them at the American kitchens every day. The American flags across the school buildings where the feeding stations are located have become a well known feature here and throughout Austria. But during the past months the question often arose as to how long the American Relief Administration would be able to continue its work, for even Mr. Hoover's tremendous efforts to help the children of Central Europe could not be expected to go on forever.

"That is why we so greatly appreciated the generous donation of the American farmers for it will enable us to furnish hundreds and thousands of portions of a good square meal to the children. We are grateful to all the kind Americans that have helped to make the Hoover drive a success, but we are especially thankful to these good farmers for their splendid spirit."

Twenty skilled American shots will defend the massive silver Dewar Cup against British, Canadian and Australian riflemen during the National Rifle and Pistol matches—the government marksmanship contests which will be held at Camp Perry, Ohio, beginning August 27. The match will be shot with 22 caliber rifles, 20 shots per man, at distances of 50 and 100 yards, and the winners are declared International Small-bore Champions.

The trophy in this international contest of straight shooting was instituted by Lord Dewar, the Scottish peer, and the United States first entered a team to compete against the British in 1909, at which time the British won. Seven times since then, have the marksmen of the United States taken on the British and Colonial teams, and have won the cup five times.

The contest for the Dewar Trophy this year promises to be one of the most exciting of recent years, since not only the British but the Canadians and Australians have been preparing for months to put teams into the competition which they hope will score higher than the team representing the United States.

The Dewar Trophy Match for the past three years has been made a part of the National Rifle Association program held in connection with the government competitions wherein teams from the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, National Guard and teams of civilian riflemen from every state, compete in tests of skill with the army rifle and army pistol.

GUARD CLOSELY AGAINST TYPHOID, SAYS DR. GUITTARD

County Health Officer Issues Timely Warning Against Typhoid Epidemic in County as Well as in the City.

Dr. V. D. Guittard, Mason County Health Officer, has issued this statement to the public:

A lesson is learned by experience only or by frequent repetition. Maysville and Mason county have had sufficient experience with typhoid fever epidemics. They have learned their lesson. But lessons once learned often fade in time from the memory.

The possibility of an outbreak of typhoid fever always exists in this city and county under present conditions. Isn't this a common expression, "clear, cool spring water?" But nevertheless this limpid spring water has been the source of typhoid fever in both cases reported during the month of July to the Mason County Health Office. A sample of water from both springs was sent to the State Laboratory and found very badly polluted. Just think of it! Typhoid fever can come only by swallowing some of the discharges from a person who has had the disease. There discharged emptied in an old style closet trickle and seep through the soil into the spring. What could be clearer and plainer?

Shallow wells act just the same as catch basins and collectors of the seeds of typhoid. Owners of unsewered houses and houses not supplied with the Kentucky Sanitary Tank have a tremendous responsibility in the matter. It is you who is responsible for the pollution of the ground and water, and the spread of this disease.

How little the expense of connecting with the sewer or building a sanitary tank as compared with the loss of a single life. The value of a life as determined by the courts is about $4,000.00. Less than one-hundredth part of this sum would pay for the cost of an improved Kentucky closet, and protect you and your tenant from a dangerous disease.

The state is so anxious that you do this, that it furnished the labor free. You furnish the material. Send us word and we send a force of three men to construct the tank. You do not pay a cent for their labor.

Of course after your shallow well and beautiful spring are polluted, it is necessary to safeguard the health of your family by boiling the water for every use. But how much better, how much more sensible to prevent the pollution in the first place.

It is known that flies also scatter the seeds of typhoid. How much better then it would be to clean away that manure pile, that old garbage, and other collections of filth and dirt, where they breed, than to have a dangerous and expensive case of sickness in your home. Of course swat him and screen against him but go back further and starve him and do not let him have a place to breed and grow.

The care and attention of every one is enlisted to prevent another epidemic of typhoid in this city and county.

PRESIDENT'S FATHER IS QUIETLY MARRIED

Dr. Harding, Aged 76, Is Married to His Stenographer at Michigan's Gretna Green Thursday.

Monroe, Mich., August 12. — Dr. George T. Harding, father of President Warren G. Harding, came to Monroe Thursday, married Miss Alice Severns, for many years stenographer and attendants in his office at Marion, Ohio, and left the city before more than a score of Monroe citizens had guessed his identity.

Dr. Harding is 76 years old, while his bride is 52. Accompanied by a younger Marion couple who refused to divulge their names, Dr. Harding and Miss Severns drove to Monroe in an automobile, reaching the city shortly after noon. They went immediately to the county court house, obtained a marriage license, and asked to be directed to a Baptist parsonage. As there is no resident Baptist pastor here the couple went to the home of the Rev. Frank T. Knowles, pastor of the Monroe Presbyterian church, who performed the ceremony at 2 o'clock.

In the local police court Friday morning Walter Grierson, of Manchester, Ohio, was fined $15 and costs on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. The fine was paid.

My kidneys were in a mighty bad shape the first time I used them. The secretions I passed were bloody and burned terribly. My back kept me in misery during the time the attack lasted and I was feeling generally run down. I went to Wood & Son's Drug Store and got a couple boxes of them. This medicine reached my case at once and cured me up in good shape. I have always relied upon Doan's ever since. I use a few now and then to regulate my kidneys and they never fail me."
